

Kurt Lattimer

This art competition is offered to students from Madison County, Ohio slated to complete their high school education in the same academic year they are competing.

Our award commemorates the life of Kurt Lattimer, an amazing artist who left us too soon. The hope is this award will somehow keep his spirit alive in the hearts of many aspiring artists, something Kurt would be very proud of!

Our community has many young, gifted artists —skilled and novice— who deserve the opportunity to showcase their unique talents. We hope that this contest will challenge and inspire our youth to continue to cultivate and share their talent, as well as promote the arts in Madison County for generations to come.

We are delighted to share that we are now partnering with the Madison County Arts Council and plan to announce our yearly winners during their Young Artist Showcase, which is held annually in January.

We are grateful for the support of

LONDON CITY HALL, the MADISON COUNTY ARTS COUNCIL and the FIRST UNITED METHODIST CHURCH OF LONDON

Students may pick up their art at City Hall on February 28, 2025, 8am-4pm. See Eve Breedlove (Exec Admin), Suite 100, to claim/check-out art. Best of luck to all competitors!

"This award is such a great opportunity for young artists to create and showcase beautiful masterpieces inspired by their goals and dreams! I had the privilege of winning first place in the KLAAs 2019 competition. This past year I graduated with my degree in Baking & Pastry Arts and received my title as a CPC (Certified Pastry Culinarian). I adore baking delicious desserts and decorating them even more! I am so grateful for the role that award has had in supporting my artistic endeavors and only hope more students are able to receive that same encouragement!"

"I am writing this letter in support of the Kurt Lattimer Aspiring Artist Award. I earned second place last year participating in this competition. It is a great way to engage with the artistic community. Often in school, art is something that is underfunded and not appreciated, as most funding goes towards sports. This competition gives young artists the opportunity to showcase their talent and possibly win awards that can help further their education in creative pursuits. For myself, it was hard to get a scholarship to go into Graphic Design because it wasn't mainstream. Most scholarships are for nursing or business degrees. The award helped in purchasing a computer for school which would not have been possible otherwise, as I live in a single parent household and have no college savings. The competition also motivated me to produce artwork that later became part of my portfolio. It was also amazing seeing other kids my age entries which inspired me!"
